

BULB LOG 15.....13th April 2011

I have so much to do before the International conference that this will be another bulb log with few written words but I think the pictures speak for themselves and show how much interest there is around the garden just now :- not really the best time to be going away.

Plunge frame

F. burnatii

A closer look at F. burnatii thought by some to be just a form of fritillaria meleagris.

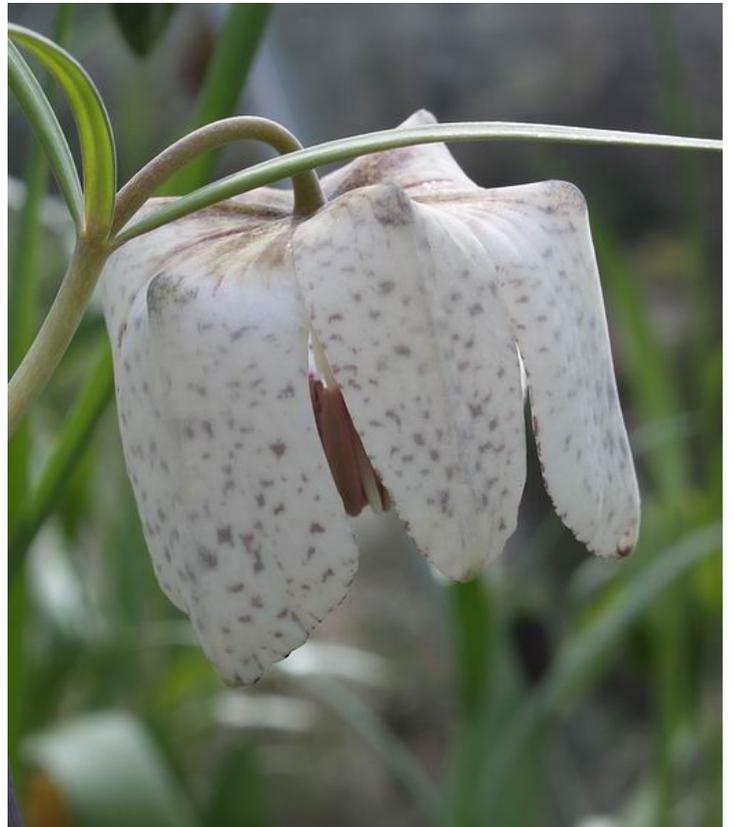

Fritillaria davisii

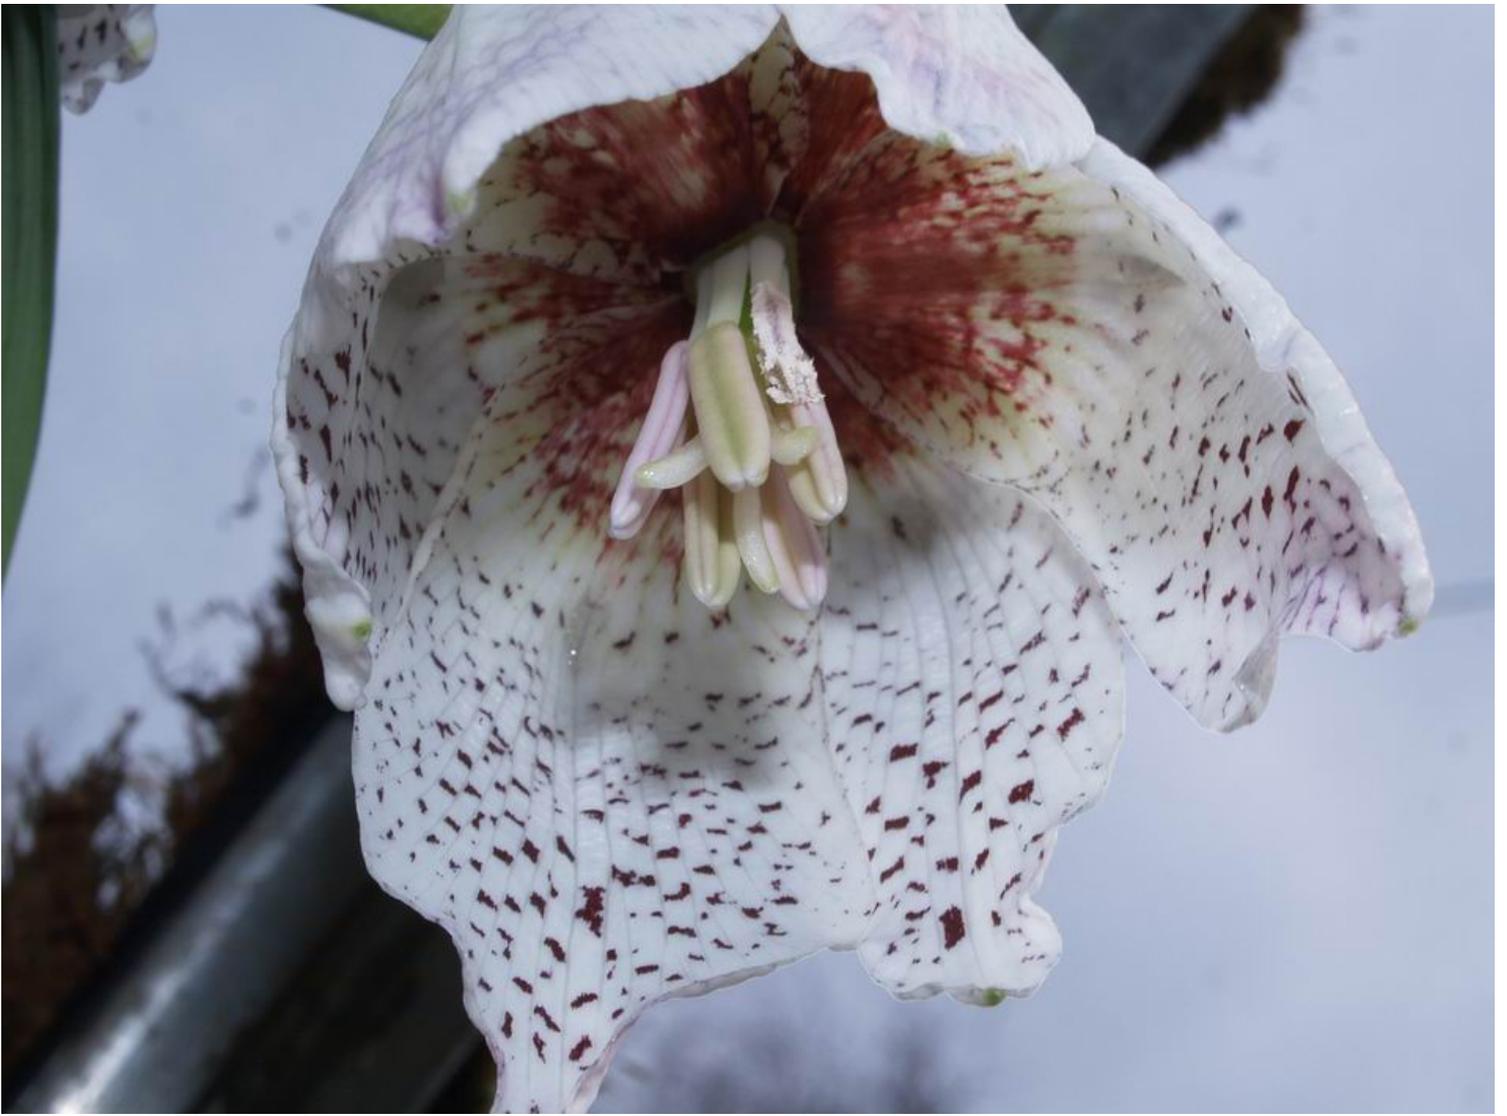

Fritillaria obliqua

Fritillaria acomopetela* subsp wendelboi and *F. olivieri

Fritillaria tortifolia

Fritillaria tortifolia

Narcissus bulbocodium obesus

Narcissus bulbocodium and N. nevadensis

Narcissus triandrus

Anne Wright's Narcissus triandrus x N. bulbocodium obesus

Muscari mcbeathianum

Muscari sp. Turkey

Tristagma leichtlinii

Primula marginata in raised bed

Trough with saxifrages

Rhododendron dendrocharis

Rhododendron yakushmanum x recurvoides

Primula denticulata

Such a good time of year
